Then, because she wanted it this way, she fell onto her back without letting go, and he was on top of her with his hands on her buttocks. ....

Then with his hands he pulled her to him and at the same time entered her so that she felt his scrotum slap against her skin. Her entire body felt the rightness of it, her entire body was seized to it. Hatsue arched her shoulder blades--her breasts pressed themselves against his chest---and a slow shudder ran through her.”

They moved that way, standing up in the bathtub with the water pouring over them....,"
